

3-5
Years

The Fox and the Grapes

Once upon a time, there was a hungry fox.

He looked everywhere for something to eat,
but he couldn't find any food.

His tummy rumbled, and he felt very hungry.
Then, the fox saw a wall that belonged to a farmer.

On top of the wall, he noticed the most delicious-looking grapes he had ever seen.

They were big and juicy, with a beautiful purple color. The fox knew they were ripe and ready to eat.

To reach the grapes, the fox had to jump
high into the air.

He tried to catch the grapes with his mouth
as he jumped, but he missed!

The fox didn't give up. He tried again and again, but each time, he failed to grab the grapes.

The fox made a few more jumps, but he kept missing the grapes.

Feeling frustrated, he finally decided to give up and go home.

As he walked away, he grumbled to himself,
"I'm sure the grapes were sour anyway."

Moral

Never despise what you can't have;
nothing comes easy.

Open the pages of a book and unlock a world of wonder, where dreams take flight and imagination knows no bounds. Dive into the adventures that await, for with each word you read, you become the hero of your own story.

